Cost of Attendance and Federal Direct PLUS Loan Calculation

You can view the cost of attendance estimate for the current academic year by clicking on the link for the "Shopping Sheet" located on the View/Print Award Letter page. This includes an estimate for tuition, room/board, books, personal allowance, transportation allowance, and loan fees.

A parent of a dependent student may also be eligible to apply for a Federal Direct PLUS Loan. The maximum amount that your parent may request for a Federal Direct PLUS is the cost of attendance minus your total financial aid. Eligibility for the Federal Direct PLUS depends on a modest credit check that determines whether the parent borrower has an adverse credit history.

This award is subject to the following conditions:

- This award offer letter is only valid if you have been officially admitted to Santa Clara University.

Important Financial Aid Information
(more information available at www.scu.edu/financialaid)

Verification:

Students selected for verification must submit all requested verification documentation to the Financial Aid Office. Santa Clara University will request verification documents from selected students. No federal or state aid can be disbursed to a student's account until the verification process has been completed. Federal and state aid will be canceled if the Financial Aid Office does not receive the verification documents by the date indicated on the notice sent to you. It is your responsibility to provide the required information. Multiple reminders will not be sent to you. Once aid is canceled there is no guarantee that it can be reinstated.

Citizenship:

Some students will receive a message on their Student Aid Report (SAR) indicating that the Social Security Administration was not able to verify their citizenship status. Please provide the financial aid office with documentation of your U.S. citizenship (such as your U.S. Passport, Certificate of Naturalization or Birth Certificate). If the documents support your status as a U.S. citizen, the Financial Aid Office will continue to process your federal student aid. Aid from all sources cannot be disbursed until this documentation is on file with the Financial Aid Office. If the appropriate valid documentation is not received, this award offer will be rescinded.

Selective Service:

If you are male and are 18 through 25 years of age, to receive aid you must register with the Selective Service. You may obtain a Selective Service registration form from your local post office or register online at www.sss.gov. If your Student Aid Report (SAR) indicates that Selective Service registration was not confirmed, and you believe you have already registered or are exempt, please contact the Selective Service at 1-888-655-1825.

Satisfactory Academic Progress:

All financial aid recipients must maintain good academic standing and be making satisfactory progress according to published University standards and practices required of all students enrolled in their college or program as well as the Department of Education Federal Regulations. A copy of these standards may be viewed on our website or the "Terms - Undergraduate" publication. Students who do not meet these standards are subject to Academic Probation or Disqualification and may become ineligible for aid.

First-Time Federal Direct Loan Borrowers:

All first-time Direct Loan borrowers at Santa Clara University are required to complete an Entrance Counseling Tutorial. Failure to complete the Entrance Counseling Tutorial will result in funds not being credited to your student account and cancellation of the loans. The Entrance Counseling Tutorial is available on the web at: <https://studentaid.gov/h/complete-aid-process>

Enrollment Requirement:

If you drop below full-time enrollment prior to census date, your Federal Pell Grant, Federal TEACH Grant and/or Cal Grant are subject to revision based on your units of enrollment. You must be enrolled at least half-time in any term where federal and/or state financial aid is shown on your award letter. If you change enrollment status after your financial aid has been awarded, your aid is subject to revision. Please contact the Financial Aid Office if you have any questions regarding your aid eligibility.

SCU Grants and Scholarships:

Aid awarded from Santa Clara University's own combined resources will not exceed the value of tuition (e.g. need-, merit- or talent based-, and dependent tuition remission). If receipt of a later awarded Santa Clara University source causes your award to exceed this total, an adjustment will be made.

Undergraduate Study Abroad:

Students must participate in a Santa Clara University program or an approved affiliate program to receive any type of financial aid. Students who study abroad can use federal and state aid, with the exception of Federal Work Study, to pay for their program. Santa Clara University grants and scholarships may be utilized for study abroad expenses. Students with private scholarships should contact the donor for prior approval.

Title IV Refund:

When a student leaves Santa Clara University prior to the end of a quarter, the University determines if a refund of charges is due as well as how much federal and institutional financial aid has been earned to pay for those charges. The federal government has determined that a student has earned 100 percent of his or her federal aid at the 60 percent point of the quarter. Thus, any student who withdraws after the 60 percent point of a quarter will retain all of his or her federal aid eligibility. However, until the 60 percent point of a quarter, a pro rata schedule is used to determine how much of a student's federal financial aid should be retained to pay for institutional charges. It is important to note that you may still owe Santa Clara University charges upon withdrawing from a quarter, and payments may be made to the SCU Bursar's Office. The return of federal financial aid only applies to federal aid that includes the Federal Pell Grant, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants, Federal TEACH Grant, Federal Perkins, Federal Direct Loan, and the Federal Direct PLUS Loan programs. While Federal Work Study funds are federal aid, they are not considered in this particular calculation.
